Understanding cables

Every cable message consists of three parts:

- The top box shows each cables unique reference number, when and by whom it originally was sent, and what its initial classification was.
- The middle box contains the header information that is associated with the cable. It includes information about the receiver(s) as well as a general subject.
- The bottom box presents the body of the cable. The opening can contain a more specific subject, references to other cables (browse by origin to find them) or additional comment. This is followed by the main contents of the cable: a summary, a collection of specific topics and a comment section.

To understand the justification used for the classification of each cable, please use this WikiSource article as reference.

Discussing cables

SUBJECT: EL SALVADOR: ASSEMBLY VOTES FOR ONE YEAR EXTENSION IN IRAQ

REF: SAN SALVADOR 2394

¶1. (U) Late on December 14, El Salvador's Legislative Assembly passed a resolution extending the authorization for Salvadoran participation in the Multinational Forces-Iraq through December 31, 2007. The measure passed with 49 votes in favor (ARENA, National Conciliation (PCN), and Christian Democrats (PDC)) and 34 votes against (FMLN, Democratic Change (CD)). The Salvadoran forces are already preparing to send their 8th contingent of the Cuscatlan Battalion in February 2007.

¶2. (C) COMMENT: The continued presence of Salvadoran troops in Iraq is a major domestic political sacrifice for the Saca Administration, as polling published this week in leading daily La Prensa Grafica shows steady popular opposition (81 percent against, 12 percent in favor) to Salvadoran troops in Iraq. Nevertheless, Saca continues to take this political risk to maintain what he sees as a close personal relationship with President Bush and the U.S. Despite unwavering support from President Saca and his ARENA party, securing this vote required significant Embassy intervention with the PCN. PCN legislator (and retired colonel) Jose Antonio Almendariz, who has always supported the Iraq effort and has even visited the Salvadoran troops, decided early in the week to push for a six month extension vice a year and tried to convince others in the PCN to support his position. The Ambassador met with and succeeded in convincing the PCN president and party leaders to secure the 10 vital PCN votes, and Almendariz added his vote in the end as well.
